Nixon Moves to End the Dock Strike

By BILL KOSMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Using emergency powers of the Taft-Hartley Law for the first time since taking office, President Nixon has moved toward halting strikes that have shut down most of the nation's deep-water ports.

Saying continuation of the strikes would "imperil the national health and safety," the President signed an executive order naming a five-member inquiry board that could recommend seeking a back-to-work injunction.

The board, headed by J. Keith Mann, associate dean of Stanford Law School, is to report to Nixon by Wednesday on the issues in the stalemated labor disputes on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf Coasts.

Nixon signed the order Monday night as negotiations in the record 96-day West Coast dock strike, and the Atlantic and Gulf Coast strikes broke down.

The 1947 Taft-Hartley labor law has been used seven times in the past to deal with dock strikes.

Once the inquiry board makes its report, the White House said, the President will decide whether to direct the Justice Department to seek an injunction forcing strikers back to work for an 80-day cooling-off period while negotiations continued.

Nixon also will decide whether an injunction should apply only to the West Coast strike or to all 60,000 striking longshoremen throughout the nation.

Nixon signed the executive order minutes after returning to Washington from a weekend vacation in Florida.

If the strikes continue, Nixon said, they would affect a "substantial part of the maritime industry" that involves trade, commerce, transportation and communications between the states and foreign nations.

The President's order referred to strikes at Great Lakes ports, besides those on the West, East and Gulf ports. But Great Lakes shipping has not been affected since separate union agreements govern those ports.

Cool Air Is Moving in From Canada

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A surge of cool air from Canada is expected to reach Arkansas Wednesday, pushing cloudy skies and shower activity out of the state for two or three days.

A weak cold front drifted slowly across the state Monday bringing showers and cooler temperatures to all sections. Most of the rainfall Monday fell in the southeast half of the state but amounts were light. The heaviest rainfall—1.3—was recorded at Little Rock.

Highs Monday ranged from 71 at Harrison to 82 at Pine Bluff. Temperatures today and Wednesday should be mild, mostly in the upper 70s and low 80s. Low tonight should be in the upper 40s in the north portion to the mid 50s in the south.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 46, Harrison 48, Jonesboro 57, Pine Bluff 64, Texarkana 65, El Dorado 63, Memphis 67, Little Rock 61 and Fort Smith 51.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. include a trace at Jonesboro and .01 at Pine Bluff.

Sentences in Marijuana Case

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Three Jonesboro youths were sentenced to one year in jail, with 11 months and 20 days suspended, and were fined $250 in municipal court Monday after they entered pleas of guilty to charges of possession of marijuana.

Officials identified the three as Michael D. Seats, 20, of Jonesboro, David M. Dacus, 18, of Jonesboro and Ricky B. Hall, 16, of Bono.

Man Given 17 Years on Two Charges

In Hempstead Circuit Court Monday, Judge John W. Goodson presiding, a jury found Will A. McDonald guilty of forgery and sentenced him to seven years in prison. An habitual criminal charge was filed against him resulting from four previous convictions and he was given 11 years in prison on this charge.

Chester Pogue Jr., pleaded guilty to grand larceny in connection with theft of tires, wheels etc. from James Motor Co., and was given a three year probation sentence.

Wedall Argo, pleaded guilty to burglary and grand larceny in connection with the burglary of Harry McEmore's welding shop and was given a five year suspended sentence.

Dallas Jail Inmates Stage Riot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — More than 800 Dallas County jail inmates who had protested prison conditions and the treatment of Dallas poor people staged a destructive disturbance Monday night. One prisoner died and five prisoners and several guards suffered minor injuries.

Prison authorities said the only mark on the dead prisoner, Lawrence Edward Jackson, 36, was a cut finger. The county medical examiner ordered an autopsy.

Groups of prisoners clashed with law enforcement officers in a series of skirmishes over 3½ hours. About 300 inmates were involved altogether.

"The party's over," Sheriff Clarence Jones said after the disturbance had been quelled. "Now the honeymoon is over."

Jones had been negotiating with prisoners over grievances for two weeks.

Ten days ago, prisoners on the 12th floor set fire to mattresses and then surrendered hand-made weapons to Jones when he agreed to negotiations on prisoner demands for better medical care, food and prison mail policies.

Jones allowed six prisoners of the 11th floor to meet with

Manpower Assessment Needs for Hope, Area Will Start on Monday

The Arkansas Employment Security Division recently contracted with the U.S. Department of Labor to conduct an experimental and development project in the Southwest Arkansas CAMPS District, which is comprised of the following counties: Calhoun, Columbia, Dallas, Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Nevada, Ouachita, Sevier, and Union. J. Merle Lemley, Administrator of the Arkansas Employment Security Division, said today.

This project will involve a comprehensive assessment of the manpower needs of the people and the employers in this district. This information will be used to evaluate the on-going manpower programs now being conducted by both public and private agencies and institution located in this district. This evaluation will be used to determine changes that need to be made in these manpower programs which would make them more responsive to the needs of the people and the employers in this district.

This project will involve three surveys, Lemley said. The first will be a survey involving a sample of 765 employers in the district. These employers will be asked to provide data on their current manpower needs and those which they have experienced during the past year. The survey will begin in Hope,

Monday, October 11. A household survey covering approximately 1,000 households in Hempstead County will be conducted simultaneously. According to Teddy Jones, Manager of the Hope ESD Office. Information gathered in this survey will be utilized to determine the specific manpower needs of the individuals who live in the district. A staff of 10 Hempstead County residents has been hired to make the survey. Most of these are experienced female census takers who worked on the 1970 federal census Jones continued. A third survey will constitute an inventory of the manpower training currently available in the district.

The data gathered in these three surveys should provide a very useful data base, not only to the Southwest Arkansas Manpower Planning Board, which is responsible for the coordination of manpower planning in the district, but also to vocational educators and to various other institution and preparing workers for jobs.

The survey is expected to be concluded in Hempstead Co. in about a month to six weeks.

One of the greatest needs in the manpower field today is the identification of manpower needs and problems. The results of this survey should help to fill this void in the Southwest Arkansas District.

New District Maps Mailed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Monday he was mailing binders containing maps of each new legislative district to each of the county clerks.

In a news conference, Bryant said that copies of the new districts, approved by the State Board of Apportionment, had been sent to members of the General Assembly and the news media.

Bryant said that extra copies of the redistricting maps are on file in his office and will be made available to the public without charge upon request.

Bill to Cut Taxes Has Good Chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to cut taxes $15.4 billion in three years, part of President Nixon's economic program, goes before the House today with good prospects despite opposition from labor and some liberal Democrats.

The vote is scheduled Wednesday.

A blast at the measure Monday from AFL-CIO President George Meany dispelled any idea that major changes in 'Mk-on's proposals had made the bill acceptable to labor chiefs. However, a comfortable majority of the House apparently is behind the version produced by the Ways and Means Committee.

Within the framework of the tax reduction for the next three years, the committee trimmed the benefits Nixon proposed for business by roughly $5.5 billion and stepped up tax cuts for individuals by about $3.5 billion. In longer-range projections, business does somewhat better.

The committee bill contains some $5.71 billion tax relief in 1971-73 for individuals, mainly those at the low end of the income scale.

But Meany told the House Banking Committee: "We certainly don't like the committee bill."

"We are still opposed to the accelerated depreciation write-offs and also to the investment tax credit," Meany said. Despite changes made in these provisions by the committee, they still would be worth $3.7 billion to business in the three-year period.

Meany said the "tax bonanza to business" would amount to $70 billion in a decade.

Draft Lottery Lowered to Number 125

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System today lowered the lottery number at which young men can be expected to be drafted this year to 125.

Previously, draft officials had said young men whose birthdays fell on the 140 lowest numbers for this year's draft probably would be called up.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr also said today that men will be given 30 days' notice to report for induction, instead of the previous 10 days' notice written into the law.

That means that no one will be drafted during October to fill the 10,000-man draft call for the remainder of this year announced last week by the Pentagon. They will be drafted instead between Nov. 1 and Dec. 9.

In still another announcement, Tarr said he has directed local and appeals courts to defer action on classifications, personal appearances and appeals until new regulations on draft requirement provisions are drawn up.

"Because of the many reform provisions in the new law instituted by the system," he said, "it would be unfair not to extend these forthcoming advantages to registrants now facing classification or appeal action."

Court action could resume, however, when new rules are distributed and become effective in about six weeks.

Hearing on Arkla Rate Hike Is Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Public Service Commission will hear an application by the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 26 to increase the rates it charges its large industrial customers.

Arkla filed application Friday asking that the rates be increased about 20 per cent.

Arkla says the increase is needed so that the company would have the capital to build a pipeline to the Anadarko Basin.

In August, the commission withdrew its approval of rates charged industrial customers but allowed Arkla to still charge the same rates until a study could be made to determine how much money the company needs.

Says Democrats May Still Go for Kennedy

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Ted Boswell, Little Rock lawyer, said here Monday at the State College of Arkansas that the national Democratic convention may still turn to Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., for its presidential candidate.

"I believe that the possibility still exists that Ted Kennedy will continue to be a favorite of the national Democrats, although his popularity in Arkansas might leave a little to be desired," Boswell said.

Boswell also told the SCA Young Democrats that Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., will be in the top four candidates considered for the position.

Millions for Recreation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Troy York, director of the state Planning Department, said Monday that Arkansas will receive $3,019,000 this year in federal recreation funds.

York said the money comes from the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund, which provides matching funds of 50 per cent of project costs.

Much of the allocation is to be used in the $22 million state park improvement program authorized by the legislature this year.

Senators Are Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan voted Monday for approving an amendment for a $350 million limit on U.S. spending in Laos.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., voted against the amendment, which was passed.

Federal Pay Rejected in House

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's move to save $1.3 billion by delaying federal pay raises for six months has survived a House fight only to face one in the Senate.

The House rejected a veto resolution 207 to 174 Monday, and Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, said he will take one to the Senate floor Wednesday or Thursday.

Either chamber can veto the delay.

House Republicans were joined by 59 Democrats, all but 13 from the South, in defeating the veto resolution, which Nixon said would torpedo his entire inflation-fighting economic program announced Aug. 15.

Moss' office said it had not had time to take soundings on whether a similar Republican-Southern Democratic coalition would support the delay in the Senate.

Aides said Moss hoped to get the veto resolution through the Senate Civil Service Committee Tuesday night or Wednesday and onto the Senate floor, possibly just before the 30-day deadline for vetoing the plan Thursday.

"If you break the dam today, if you open up the dike, then the inflationary field will be flooded," said Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., during House debate.

Opposing Democratic leadership efforts to veto the pay delay, Colmer said the President held the advantage in a party-line fight "because the people of the country are behind him."

But Speaker Carl Albert said Democrats were only trying "to get the public and private employees in the same boat" by blocking the six-month pay delay before Nixon had set wage guidelines for everyone else for the period following the current 90-day wage freeze.

The President's plan to delay a January pay hike for 4.3 million federal employees is the biggest item in a $5-billion government-spending cut to offset $7.8 billion in tax cuts.

The House is to vote on its own version of the $7.8-billion tax-cut package Wednesday.

Winners in Youth Talent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The "Shoppais," a 20-member singing group from Mountain Home, took first place in the special group division of the youth talent show Monday at the state fair and livestock show.

Other winners in the first round were Yvonne Wade of Smithville, vocal division; Fran King of Calico Rock, instrumental division; Jo Anne and Sandar Raney of Cave City, novelty division.

The contest will continue through Saturday, when an overall winner will be named.

Faubus Book to Publisher

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A Conway book printing company said Monday it will have a book by former Gov. Orval Faubus published by the first of the year.

The book, "In This Faraway Land," recounts Faubus' experiences during World War II and later, but does not touch on politics.

Hubert Ferguson of Conway, manager of the commercial printing division of the Conway Printing Co., said a tentative date of Dec. 15 has been set for publishing the book.

River Road Press, a subsidiary of the company, will print the book.

Arkansas Assessment Law Almost Sure to Go to Supreme Court

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The state's method of assessing the value of real property may come under the scrutiny of the state Supreme Court following a Washington County decision.

Circuit Court Judge Maupin Cummings of Fayetteville has declared unconstitutional the portion of the Assessment Coordination Act which assesses shopping centers. Cummings' ruling does not seem to challenge any other portion of the act.

Cummings' ruling came last Friday in a suit brought by Evelyn Hills Shopping Center, Inc., of Fayetteville and Plaza Shopping Center of Springdale. The suit protested their assessed valuations as determined by the county Board of Equalization as upheld by the county court.

In an order last April, Cummings reduced the assessed valuation of Evelyn Hills from $312,000 to $270,000 and that of Plaza from $102,420 to $95,000. Friday's order replaced the April order, which the board is appealing.

Cummings enjoined the county assessor and collector from operating under the state law in determining assessment of the shopping centers for 1971 and from collecting taxes due in 1972.

In his decision, Cummings held that the state Constitution guarantees that real property should be taxed according to value as ascertained by the General Assembly and that it should be uniform throughout the state.

Washington County normally is among the top dozen or so counties in assessed valuation.

Arkansas law establishes the assessment at 20 per cent of the true market value but some counties assess lower. Cummings said the act attempts to bring about uniformity of county assessments by withholding turnback funds from counties. Turnback funds generally are not withheld unless the assessment is too high.

Pryor Votes for Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., voted Monday to block President Nixon's freeze of scheduled pay raises for federal employees.

Reps. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and John Paul Hammerschmidt voted with the majority in voting not to intervene.

Senate Votes to Limit Laos Spending

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the Nixon administration's objections, the Senate has voted to impose a $350-million limit on U.S. spending in Laos in a new assertion of congressional authority over the Indochina war.

A 67-11 vote Monday backed the amendment by Sen. Stuart Symington.

Victory came after he raised the spending ceiling and narrowed its application to pick up the support of Sen. John C. Stennis, powerful chairman of the Armed Services Committee, for the first congressional limit ever voted on spending in Laos.

A series of phone calls from Dr. Henry Kissinger, President Nixon's top national-security adviser, failed to deter Stennis from backing the amendment which requires quarterly reports on U.S. spending in Laos and a written justification of any requests for more money.

Nearing final action due Wednesday on the $21-billion military procurement bill, the Senate takes up today an amendment by Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Kansas, to cut off funds for all bombing in connection with the Indochina War.

Approved Monday was a proposal by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to add $381 million to the $2.4-billion military pay-raise bill voted last month and to authorize $14.5 million for tests in Vietnam of the short-takeoff-and-landing (STOL) mini-gunship.

Sure Was First in Line

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Paul New of Moro, a sophomore at the University of Arkansas, has made sure he is first in line to get student tickets to the Arkansas-Texas game Oct. 16 in Little Rock.

U.S. Sending Team to China This Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is sending Dr. Henry Kissinger and a full traveling party to Peking later this month to make advance preparations for his own journey to Communist China, the White House announced today.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced that Kissinger and those accompanying him will "make concrete arrangements" for the Nixon journey planned for sometime before next May.

Kissinger, the President's principal national security policy advisor, said he and the Chinese would be discussing possible dates for the Nixon visit and said, "I think we should have an announcement within a reasonable period thereafter."

Kissinger made a secret trip to Peking in July that foreshadowed Nixon's dramatic announcement of his own travel plans.

Kissinger said he will be meeting now with Premier Chou En-lai.

Asked what he could say about recent and rather mysterious happenings in Communist China and their possible impact on Nixon's plans, Kissinger said:

"We have not raised the issue . . . they have not volunteered any information."

However, he said the White House has been in direct contact with Peking and that the Chinese have pushed ahead with advance planning for the Nixon visit in a "meticulous and careful" way.

Accused Burglars Plead Innocent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two men who were arrested Aug. 9 at a local Little Rock restaurant entered pleas of innocent Monday to charges of possession of burglary tools.

Bobby Joe Harrington, 27, and James M. Sipes, 31, both of North Little Rock, said they had been beaten by the policemen who arrested them. Following the incident three policemen were dismissed from the force.

Harrington also pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of stolen property in connection with the incident.

The trial has been set for Dec. 2.

$525,688 Grant to 18 Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $525,688 grant to 18 counties for special educational programs for about 7,400 children of migrant workers.

Louis Counts, supervisor of migrant education for the state Education Department, said the funds will be used to concentrate on language development and provide general instruction, transportation, food and medical services.

364 Enemy Troops Killed in Battles

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON, (AP) — The South Vietnamese command claimed today that 364 North Vietnamese troops were killed in a series of clashes that may have ended 10 days of fighting on the Cambodia-South Vietnam frontier.

Senior U.S. advisers said the North Vietnamese appeared to be withdrawing. Ground forces reported making slow but steady progress in reopening two key highways cut by the North Vietnamese offensive in the area 60 to 90 miles north-west of Saigon.

The Saigon command claimed the North Vietnamese suffered heavy losses Monday in a series of savage clashes near the rubber plantation town of Khek, seven miles inside Cambodia.

The fighting raged while a tank-led South Vietnamese force pierced the North Vietnamese blockade of Highway 7 to reach besieged Fire Base Alpha, 3 1/2 miles east of Khek.

Saigon spokesman said 134 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed in ground fighting 2 1/2 miles east and northeast of Khek and that an additional 230 enemy were killed in the area by allied air strikes and artillery bombardments.

Headquarters said South Vietnamese losses were 10 killed and 39 wounded.

The fighting throughout Monday afternoon was the heaviest since the North Vietnamese launched an offensive in the border region Sept. 25.

In another action in eastern Cambodia, about 80 miles northwest of Khek, Cambodian forces reported finding 182 enemy bodies on a battlefield near Phnom Santuk, a 600-foot hill dominating Highway 6.

The Cambodian command in Phnom Penh said most of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed by U.S., South Vietnamese and Cambodian tactical bombers and helicopter gunships.

The command said the battle-ground, 75 miles north of Phnom Penh, was the center of close-quarter fighting for the past three days. It reported three Cambodians killed and 23 wounded.

The command said only 1,000 yards now separate two prongs of a Cambodian drive aimed at linking Phnom Penh with the provincial capital of Kompong Thom.

Second Phase of Freeze to Pose Problem

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Several key elements of President Nixon's Phase 2 economic policy have jelled, but the White House still is wrestling with the thorny problem of how best to enforce new inflation-fighting measures.

Unlike the secrecy-cloaked formulation of Phase 1, which Nixon dropped like a bombshell on Aug. 15, the President himself has traced the broad outlines of Phase 2 policy in recent public utterances. Administration aides have contributed other disclosures.

While the framework of Phase 2 has become increasingly clear, what form the enforcement machinery for wage-price restraints will take remains unsettled.

Aides say this question was among chief matters Nixon pondered during a four-day stay at his Florida and Bahamian retreats over the weekend. The President returned to Washington Monday night and press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, will spend most of the next few days in "consideration and discussion of Phase 2," including meetings with Secretary of Treasury John B. Connally, Director George Shultz of the Office of Management and Budget, and members of his Council of Economic Advisers.

As Nixon's self-imposed deadline of a Phase 2 announcement before Oct. 15 drew nearer—and Ziegler set a time frame Monday of "within five to seven days"—these major points emerged from a review of what's been said or indicated by Nixon and his aides:

Phase 2 will not carry a specific termination date, as does Phase 1's wage-price freeze which expires Nov. 13. "We are not going to set a limit on it," Nixon told the Detroit Economic Club last month, "because we believe that its duration should depend upon how effectively it deals with the problem."

—Profits probably won't be covered. Nixon has said such profit controls as an excess-profits tax would be counter-productive. "More profits mean more jobs, and at this particular time we need more jobs," he said in Detroit.

—Portions of Phase 2 will be aimed directly at such especially troublesome areas as medical costs. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot L. Richardson said during the weekend that "because of ... the very rapid rate these (medical) costs have been rising year after year, we do intend to include specific measures to deal with them."

—The administration appears to be shying away from a ceiling on interest rates. Although Nixon said last month "the matter is still open, particularly with regard to loans affecting consumers," he also described some of the problems involved.

—You can limit the interest rates, but you can't make the banker loan money," he said. "It isn't just a question of limiting the interest; it is a question of providing some system under which the money that is needed for a growing economy is forthcoming."

—While Phase 2 will encompass the entire economy, its major focus probably will be on large industries and unions. Nixon put it this way: "It will have to concentrate primarily on those areas of the economy, major industries, for example, where there is the greatest possibility of inflationary tendencies having effect on the balance of the economy, but all

Jap Premier Welcomed in London

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Emperor Hirohito of Japan received a royal welcome today as he began a three-day state visit to Britain that has aroused a mixture of curiosity and bitter memories of World War II.

Princess Margaret, Queen Elizabeth II's sister, greeted the Emperor and Empress Nagako at Gatwick Airport, south of London, on their arrival from Paris.

Queen Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, were waiting for the Japanese visitors at London's Victoria railway station, near Buckingham Palace.

It is 50 years since Hirohito was here last—as crown prince and heir to the throne. He was entertained affectionately and, according to reports, left Britain favorably impressed by the hospitality and with a penchant for English breakfasts with Scottish porridge.

But to a wide cross-section of middle-aged and older Britons, Hirohito was in the 1940s the embodiment of a hated enemy. Many find this difficult to forget.

"Forget the past?" demanded a former prisoner of war in a London newspaper today. "We are doing just that—until somebody decided to resurrect it by parading this man before us."

There is also a broad mass of Britons to whom Japan is little more than a faraway country which builds big ships and inexpensive wristwatches and sends ever-larger groups of tourists here every summer.

To British youth, the Sun newspaper pointed out, "Hirohito is simply the head of a nation remarkably adept at turning out transistor radios."

Over the past few days Britons have been deluged by newspaper and television articles on Hirohito and Japan. Few heads of state have been accorded such advance publicity.

Today's Times of London ran a 12-page special report on Japan. The Guardian published a four-page section.

Much attention on newspapers, however, has been focused on the reactions of Britons who lived or fought through the war.

This was given added emphasis today by news that Earl Mountbatten of Burma, a senior figure in Britain's royal family, will not attend any of the ceremonies of the next three days.

Mountbatten, Queen Elizabeth's uncle, was supreme allied commander in Southeast Asia during World War II. He received the surrender of Japanese forces at Singapore in 1945.

An aide said Mountbatten, 71, will not be in London this week because of "prior engagements in the country."

Thinks Mills Is Gaining

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles D. Ward of Conway, the coordinator of the Draft Mills for President Committee, said Monday that the committee is gaining support for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

Ward said the committee has opened an office in Washington, D.C., where about 75 persons have volunteered to help in the movement. Ward said there are only three paid members of the committee.

He said the donations to the committee have been small so far. Ward said the committee is largely spending its time writing letters and calling people asking for their support for Mills.

the economy will be covered."

—Although the President used the words "voluntary co-operation" in his Detroit talk, he added: "It is also essential that there be government sanctions to back it up, and there will be." Later, in Portland, Ore., he elaborated:

"The wage and price restraints that follow the freeze across the board will depend primarily upon voluntary action on the part of both labor and management and depend also to a great extent on public support."

But there must be, in addition to that—in order for it to be effective with recalcitrants—there must be the possibility of government action to back up what our private or public exhortations may be."

To Discuss Drug Abuse

DON JENSEN

VI JENSEN

"DRUG ABUSE" will be the subject at the Southside Baptist Church in a weekend revival beginning October 8, continuing through the 10th of October at 7:30 each evening and 10:00 a.m. Sunday morning and 6:00 p.m. Sunday evening. D. C. and Vi Jensen make their home in Grand Prairie, where Mr. Jensen pastored the 8th Street Baptist Church until he resigned to go into full time ministry relative to "drug abuse."

Rev. and Mrs. Jensen began newsmen Sunday night to air complaints about Dist. Atty. Henry Wade's treatment of poor people in Dallas.

Monday night's disturbance began when prisoners on the two floors started banging objects against the steel walls of their cells. They smashed windows and set fire to mattresses.

Guards and Dallas police armed with heavy clubs and leading police dogs stormed onto the two floors to find cell doors barred with strips of blanket and mattress ticking.

The officers said they used streams of water from fire hoses to keep the prisoners in check.

There were cell-to-cell skirmishes as the prisoners threw bits of cast iron and metal bolts. As the prisoners surrendered, they were searched, stripped and sent to solitary confinement.

The scene was repeated through about 12 cellblocks on the 12th floor and about four on the 11th floor.

Prisoners in many cellblocks on the two floors offered no resistance, Jones said.

Jones blamed the outburst on what he called a nationwide trend of jail and prison unrest.

this ministry in January of 1970. They had no salary but felt that the Lord would provide. Since that time they have traveled over 60,000 miles, had over 550 sessions and have traveled in 15 states. They have had radio and TV interviews, and spoken in over 150 school assemblies.

Rev. and Mrs. Jensen have been active in youth work for over 20 years. They previously served as Youth Temperance Counselors in Shreveport, La., where Mrs. Jensen was head counselor for the city of Shreveport. Rev. Jensen was on the board of volunteers for the Home of Unwed Mothers for four years in Shreveport. He is in his sixth year as a trustee of the Baptist Missionary Association of American National Youth Encampment and she has served five years as Texas State Youth Promoter.

Rev. and Mrs. Jensen will show films in line with their subject of "drug abuse." They will also have tape recordings of "drug users." They will also have facsimiles of the various types of drugs that are available today. We not only urge the Parents to come and educate themselves at this meeting, but we are urging the parents to bring their junior and senior high students with them so that they may also be educated on the subject. I personally believe if we educate our children to the harmful effects of drugs then we will not be so apt to see them get "hooked." Let's make Rev. and Mrs. Jensen's slogan our slogan, too.

Bro. Carroll Byers, Pastor, invites everyone to these meetings.

"You can BANK on us to have INTEREST in YOUTH."

Cummings called "unreasonable and an infringement on the powers of the county courts" the law that requires the county equalization board and county judge to follow the assessment manual and standards promulgated by the state Assessment Coordination Department in hearing appeals.

Cummings objected to the "reproduction costs less reasonable depreciation" method by which the true value of the shopping centers was established by the appraisers for the Washington County Board of Equalization.

The judge held this method "arbitrary and inequitable."

"A shopping center located at a choice intersection in Little Rock with long-term gilt-edged commercial lease is worth more than a shopping center of the same size and built at the same time in some small town with limited traffic and population," he wrote. "Under the reproduction costs less reasonable depreciation theory, the computed value would be the same, which is not the true value."

Would Make French Pay for Drug Flow

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Postmaster General Winton Blount has called for a boycott against French goods until France does something about the drug traffic flowing into the United States.

"Why should the American people buy French goods when an estimated 80 per cent of the heroin which finds its way into this country and into the blood-streams of our young still comes from France?" Blount said Monday during the dedication of a new stamp commemorating drug abuse prevention.

"There is no reason why the individual American citizen cannot have a role in the war against international drug traffic," he added.

In Paris the U.S. Embassy said Blount's statement was "totally contrary" to the Nixon administration's views. A White House spokesman said he had called the U.S. ambassador to France, Arthur K. Watson, to insure that there was no confusion between Blount's statements and the administration's position.

"We need to prod France vigorously," Blount said. "If the American people decided to boycott French goods until the cost of the boycott exceeded the benefits of the drug traffic out of Marseilles, then greater efforts might be taken to end that traffic."

Blount said he is now pushing a program in the Postal Service to check all mail coming in from nations involved in the international heroin traffic. This was an example of the "ruthless action" needed at all levels to curb drug abuse, he said.

Judge Assigned to Hear Rice Murder Case

DEWITT, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Court Judge Joe Villines of Harrison has been assigned to hear the first-degree murder trial of three DeWitt youths charged with murdering a Wynne rice farmer.

Another youth, Joe Kagebien, 16, was found guilty and sentenced to death in the murder of Jimmy Wayne Wampler of Wynne.

A trial date for the other three youths has not been set.

They are Benny R. West, 16; Teddy Ray Kittler, 16, and Larry L. Mannis, 17, all of the DeWitt area.

Malta Exposed to Economic, Social Change

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer
VALLETTA, Malta (AP) —

The first hundred days of Dom Mintoff have exposed this mid-Mediterranean island to a chill blast of economic and social change.

The new prime minister has set in motion a chain of events designed to tug the Maltese out from under Britain's apron where they have nestled for almost 200 years. Although outwardly nothing has changed in the bustling streets of Valletta or the coastal villages, beneath the surface there is some fear and some suspicion—with an awakening sense of national identity.

"For the first time since independence seven years ago they are beginning to realize what the term means," mused an experienced Western observer.

Mintoff's Labor government was elected in June over the strongly pro-Western Nationalist party. He quickly started renegotiating the strategic island's defense and aid ties with Britain and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He has moved to carry out an election pledge to curb inflation.

Mintoff also has galvanized a traditionally sleepy civil service into action and has moved effectively against smugglers. He is introducing legislation to give the vote at 18 instead of 21.

Inevitably his style of government brings talk of dictatorship. But the 5-foot-5 premier inspires among a broad mass of Maltese, particularly those in the lower strata of society, a feeling akin to adoration and willingness to follow wherever he leads.

A British diplomatic source says: "If Mintoff succeeds in negotiating a lot more money out of London he will hold power here until they carry him out." A U.S. colleague agrees.

Kidnap Charge Filed Against Arkansan

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) —Kidnaping charges were filed Monday against Arvin H. Logan, 32, of Shirley, Ark., in addition to the charge of murder he already faces.

He has been accused of abducting a Missouri automobile salesman and the fatal shooting of an elderly Illinois man.

Logan has been charged with the abduction of Steven Nuss of Doe Run, Mo., an automobile salesman in Farmington, Mo. He was charged with murder in the shooting of Louis Schildmeier, 84.

Officials said Nuss was ordered to drive to Illinois Saturday afternoon. Police said Nuss said the gunman forced him to stop at a house east of Edwardsville.

Nuss and the five residents of the home were forced to the basement and bound. Witnesses told police that Schildmeier was fatally shot when he attempted to hit the gunman.

Nuss worked himself free and summoned police.

Later, the car was found wrecked near Effingham.

SHE WAS WEIGHED AND FOUND WANTING — A BOY FRIEND

Dear Sue and Helen:
I was overweight in my early teens and the guys ignored me. It really hurt. Not one fella would even talk to me. I was the dateless wonder.

Now I'm slimmed down, and those same guys are real nice to me. I'm still kind of hurt because they didn't accept me for what I am back when I needed friends.

After all I was the same person. Should I ignore them to show them how it feels? —FORMER FATTY, NOW SLIM SENIOR SUE'S VIEWS:

Dear FFNS:
Don't blame the guys. They're programmed to see legs first, body next and personality last. That's because the eye is in front of the brain. —SUE
FROM HELEN:
Dear F:

And don't ruin your senior year "getting even." Can you truthfully say YOU'D date a fat boy? Moreover, how do you know your personality hasn't changed too? Self-esteem creates sparkle, which catches BOTH the eye and the brain.

Just make sure you never get on a "weighting list" again! —H.
Dear "Rap":

This is my opinion of diet pills. Who needs them?

I'm 15 and weighed 160 pounds. My parents took me to a doctor and I put up a big fight because I didn't want to get hooked on pills. As usual, parents win, so the doctor gave me diet pills. They made me nervous and irritable, and I talked a lot but said dumb things, which made me even madder, so I said to myself, "I'll lose weight MY way!"

The doctor kept on giving me pills and I kept on flushing them. Well I went from size 18 to size 11, and Mom swears by those pills!

I swear by WILL power. Wow! I'm a changed person, and do the boys ever notice it! —LINDA
Dear Linda:

The power of mind over Mother! Congratulations, Linda! —SUE
Dear Linda:

This "first flush of success" is too good to keep secret. I'll bet you'll tell your mother before the month's over. —HELEN
Dear Helen and Sue:

I know everyone has problems, but mine is a doozy. I'm a pregnant teenager, not married. I've always had a problem with my bust which was 42-D before I got pregnant, and now that I'm fatter, it's even worse. I read in your column where a woman lost her "upholstery" after her baby came. Is there a chance that I will too, and how can I make sure of it? I want to be no more than 36-B, and I hope the baby will do it for me. —FEELING FREAKY SUE'S VIEWS:

Dear Freaky:
I've heard married women say they'll have a baby or bust, but this is ridiculous! You're worrying about the wrong problem, kid. —SUE
HELEN'S CORNER:
Dear F.F.:

Maybe that outsized bust helped bring on your problem. After the baby comes and finds a good home-discuss those freaky feelings with a doctor. Homes for unwed mothers offer psychiatric counseling. You could use a few sessions to get your head on straight. —H.

Bottle Group Changes Name to Antique

The Hempstead County Bottle Club which is a newly formed organization has voted to change its name to Hempstead County Antique Collectors Club.

The reason for the change is that more persons are collecting different kinds of antiques along with bottles. Many things are interesting such as barbed wire, old crockery, tobacco cutters, farm tools, and others including all types of glassware.

If it's old and you want to find out its age and origin bring it to the club meeting this month. There is always a speaker for the meetings.

The place to sell your antiques in the monthly flea market at various places in the city. Club members are interested in buying antiques as well as selling. A membership drive is now underway and dues are $2.50 a year per person.

The next meeting will be a fish fry. If interested in joining call 777-2235 or 777-2684.

You don't have to bid a five-card major suit opposite an opening no-trump. Even if you play Jacoby Transfer you should not feel bound to bid one automatically.

The North hand illustrates this. He has 12 points and five spades with every suit stopped. Some would just raise to three no-trump. We favor the Stayman two-club bid to check if partner holds four spades. When he rebids two diamonds we forget about spades and jump right to the no-trump game.

It is just as well. Four spades will probably make, but a heart opening and continuation will give the defense two aces, the king of trumps and a heart ruff.

On the other hand, South should have no difficulty bringing home 10 tricks at no-trump.

He wins the heart lead in his own hand and Analyzes the lead as fourth best — probably from a five-card suit. He wants to guard against West getting the lead after the hearts are cleared. He proceeds to do this by leading a diamond toward dummy. If West rises with his ace, South can take the spade finesse later on with complete safety.

If West ducks, South comes to his hand with a club, loses the spade finesse but winds up with four spades, two hearts, three clubs and one diamond.

Wants TV for Children to Be Creative

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Keeshan, who is Captain Kangaroo, says the most urgent business in children's television is "getting more good, creative, compassionate people to create more good programs and getting more people to watch less of it."

Keeshan said he fears children are watching television to such an extent that it is destroying parent-child relationships.

"It is turning us into a nation of spectators," he said. "We are debasing our children, we are debasing our adults."

Keeshan was a participant Monday night in a forum sponsored by the New York chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences on "The New Look in Children's Programming: How Far Have We Come From the Wasteland?"

Panelists generally agreed that improvements had been made this season.

"I feel it's a giant step from the Saturday morning cartoon ghetto," said Burt Rosen, producer of "Story Theatre."

George Stoney, director of the Alternate Media Center at New York University, said:

"We have some new programs but we still have the same old curse—the commercial."

Hanging Out the College Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: (Grambling and Morgan State, which drew 65,000 people to New York's Yankee Stadium and received wonderful news—not to mention $200,000 apiece—when ABC TV televised the game nationally, are now in for some bad news.

The national Nielsen ratings shows the Sept. 11 contest between the black powers averaged 6.52 million homes per minute across the country. Only two Saturdays fared worse in 1970—one consisting of four regional games (Minnesota-Missouri, Florida State-Georgia Tech, North Carolina State-North Carolina and Boston College-Villanova) and the Houston-Florida State game Thanksgiving night.

By comparison, the 1970 opener between Stanford and Arkansas drew 7.3 million homes per minute, Notre Dame and Southern Cal rated 13.3—the highest ever—and the weekly average was 8.3. Ironically, in New York, which wasn't blacked out, Grambling and Morgan State got a Nielsen rating of 9.0. The past weekend's Notre Dame-Michigan State clash rated 8.6 in Fun City.

Will the disappointing national ratings preclude a 1972 telecast of a College Division game? "I can't say we won't," said an ABC spokesman. But he didn't say they will, either.

Columbia hadn't beaten Princeton since 1945, losing 20 times in the interim, although two of the setbacks were by one point and three by two points. But the Lions prevailed by two points of their own Saturday, 22-20, as a 32-yard Princeton field goal attempt in the final seconds fell short.

Surprisingly, no one carried Coach Frank Navarro off the field.

"We were all milling around in the middle of the field," Navarro said. "We wanted to make sure Princeton couldn't get another play off."

What happened after that was described by Navarro as "a madhouse. Grown men on both sides of the field were crying. It was a fantastic thing to see."

"And when we first went to the locker room no one said a thing. But after five minutes it was difficult to see the walls and the floor. People were just flying around."

Despite the closeness of the score, the outcome was never in doubt—not to Navarro, anyway. The coach ordered a bottle of champagne for the press box—on Thursday.

"For the first time at Columbia I was convinced beforehand we couldn't lose the game," he said. "This is my fourth season at Columbia and it was the first time I had that feeling. But I must admit that when Princeton was attempting that field goal I was reacting to the situation and wondering how I'd handle the kids if they did make it."

It wasn't a rouge, it wasn't a single and it wasn't Canadian football. It happened in the Syracuse-Indiana game and it was a one-point safety.

A what? A one-point safety. Syracuse was trying to kick the extra point after taking a 6-0 lead. The ball was kicked almost straight up in the air and was coming down obviously short of the crossbar when an Indiana player batted the ball down in the end zone and Syracuse recovered.

Since an Indiana player batted the ball illegally, the ruling was that the try was successful. A try is defined as an opportunity to score one or two additional points while time is out.

What makes Alabama's Johnny Musso such a tough runner, the whom Bear Bryant calls better than John David Crow, Bryant's Heisman Trophy winner at Texas A&M? "My coach is John David Crow," says Musso, "and his personality rubs off on you. He played the game brutal and I play it as rough as I can."

The Wishbone offense is relatively new but already it has offshoots. Southern Methodist is running what it calls the Flying Wishbone, utilizing the basic parts of the triple option running game with the dropback and sprint-out passes. Instead of the traditional tight end in the Wishbone, SMU uses two tight ends.

The offense got its name during a meeting between Coach Hayden Fry and a Dallas sports writer. Fry was explaining the two split ends, or wing men, as he called them. The writer said, "A Wishbone with two wing men; kind of a Flying Wishbone."

"You just named it," said Fry.

Thinks Team Will Have to Be Perfect

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The coach of the Arkansas State University Indians football team said Monday the team will have to play perfect football to squeeze by Southern Illinois Saturday.

"We have to play perfect football," Coach Bill Davidson told the team Monday. "We can't have a breakdown in any phase of our game if we hope to win Saturday."

Of Southern Illinois Davidson said: "They may be as good as any team we've lined up against since I've been here," he said.

Davidson said the Tribe, which is rated number one in the Associated Press Small College Poll, was continuing to improve its passing skills.

"We have a long way to go," said Davidson, "and we have to get there by Saturday night."

Psychological War by Giants and Pirates

GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was a psychological war, rocking chair speed, between old Irish buddies Danny Murtaugh and Charlie Fox.

Murtaugh, the craggy faced, casual dressing Pittsburgh Pirates' skipper, and the mod, suave Fox, who manages the San Francisco Giants, charmed writers Monday, an off-day in the National League play-offs.

The two clubs were deadlocked 1-1 going into the third game today at Three Rivers Stadium. Juan Marichal of the Giants was pitching against the Pirates' Nelson Briles.

"We're always hospitable the day before a game," said Murtaugh as he rocked away in his clubhouse office. Fox, his old friend, sat motionless in another rocker next to the Pirate manager.

Why was Danny rocking and Charlie not? "You have to be flexible. You can't sit still," answered Murtaugh. "Besides, I've got my foot under his rocker so he can't rock."

Did he import a much shabbier model as Fox's rocker? "Charlie and I are old Irishmen and in every Irish home there's a rocker," Murtaugh answered. Someone asked the Pirate manager if Bob Robertson, who slammed three homers in the Pirates' Sunday 9-4 victory was okay. The big first baseman has been hobbled with bad knees.

"He's all right," said Danny, rocking away.

"Are you sure he's all right? Robertson strained himself Sunday, didn't he? I think you might give him a rest," Fox said straight-faced.

Seriously, Fox scoffed at a so-called psychological edge for the Pirates, finishing the best-of-five series in their own park.

"I've got the edge, I've Marichal," said Fox.

Marichal, an 18-game winner, loosened up at the stadium, playing catch with coach Ossie Virgil while his mates took the day off. "This will be the biggest game of my life," the veteran right-hander said. He said the previous biggest one was the division-clinching victory at San Diego last week.

Porkers Do Practice on Grass

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — This Saturday's game with Baylor at Waco, Tex., will be the only time this season that the University of Arkansas Razorbacks play on natural turf.

Coach Frank Broyles said following Monday's practice session that he was not worried because the Razorbacks play on real grass twice a week.

The Hogs spent 90 minutes in a workout Monday.

The Razorbacks beat TCU 49-15 last weekend.

"We made up our mind to forget about last week and to start thinking about next week," Broyles said.

Broyles was pleased with his team's performance against TCU. He said his team "came out with their backs to the wall but played with recklessness and authority."

Billie Jean Denies She Was Critical

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Billie Jean King says it's not so—she never criticized actress Elke Sommers for wearing a transparent white tennis dress minus a bra.

"I don't care what people wear or don't wear on the tennis court," the reigning U.S. Open champion insists.

"As for Miss Sommers. I only met her once—in Chicago. She seemed like a very nice person."

Mrs. King, in New York to be feted as the first woman tennis player to win more than $100,000 in a season, was shown a copy of a national tennis magazine which had a provocative, revealing picture of Miss Sommers on the cover.

Beside it was a caption: "Billie Jean King blasts Elke's play as 'bush' tennis."

"I never said that," Billie Jean repeated. "At Chicago, I got sore when people kept coming out on the center court while I was trying to play. They interrupted me five times, saying something about getting ready for a style show."

"I have no beef against style shows or attractive tennis dresses. In fact, I work on the advisory staff of a clothes manufacturer (Head). I just don't think they should interfere with the tennis."

The outspoken Billie Jean said she has no objections if some women want to play without bras, as Tory Fretz insists she does sometimes, or in sexy hot pants and lacy underthings.

"Whatever suits a girl, that's what she should wear," she added. "She should be comfortable and be able to move."

"I think this is where women tennis players have it over the women golfers. We have remained feminine. Women golfers have tried to copy the men—even to the clothes they wear."

Billie Jean was in town to be honored by sponsors of the Virginia Slims professional tour at a press conference Monday highlighted by a personal call from President Nixon.

"I want to congratulate you," the President said over the long-distance phone after first getting a recording. "I'm glad to see a fellow Californian win over $100,000."

The President, a sports buff who frequently makes calls to sports personalities, recalled that he had seen Billie Jean play before—five or six years ago at Piping Rock on Long Island.

Billie Jean boosted her earnings to $100,350 by winning the Phoenix Open last week. According to the sponsors, she is $25,000 to $33,000 ahead of the top men professionals in winnings—Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner.

Bengal Coach Has No Plan for QB Trade

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals coach Paul Brown said Monday the team has no plans "to make any trades for a quarterback."

"Ken Anderson will be our quarterback now, and Dave Lewis will back him up," Brown said.

Anderson was forced into the starting quarterback spot since regular starting quarterback Virgil Carter dislocated his shoulder in the Bengals' 20-17 loss to the Green Bay Packers Sunday at Green Bay.

Brown said the Bengals two straight losses since winning their opener didn't please him.

"I don't like it," he said. "But there isn't anything I can do about it. We're catching everyone's best Sunday effort. We have met two steamedup football teams the last two weekends."

Meanwhile, Bengals' defensive back Ken Dyer continued in serious condition in a Green Bay Hospital, suffering from what Dr. George Ballou, team physician, called a "severe contusion of the spinal cord."

Dyer was injured when tackling Packers' running back John Brockington Sunday. Dr. Ballou said X-rays Sunday showed no evidence of a fracture and that diagnostic X-rays showed "no outside pressure on the spinal cord."

He said Dyer was able to move his lower extremities and "is in good spirits."

Dr. Wally Timperman, another Bengals team physician, said surgery on Dyer "does not now appear to be necessary."

Orioles Hero Did Well With Injury

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Boog Powell is hardly a stylish bunter and he flirts with injury almost every time he slides. But no one can fault his slugging ability.

Playing with two injured wrists, which almost forced him out of the starting line-up, the Baltimore first baseman ratted two home runs Monday while fighting the pain. A baseball version of the agony and the ecstasy.

Powell spent hours doctoring the latest injury to his vulnerable wrists before driving in three runs as the Orioles beat the Oakland Athletics 5-1 and took a 2-0 lead in the best-of-5 American League playoff series.

"If it had been midseason," Powell said as the Orioles flew westward for today's third game, "more than likely I would have rested. But you've got to be psyched up for the playoffs."

Powell reinjured his right wrist while sliding in game No. 1, and when he left Baltimore Memorial Stadium Sunday there was considerable doubt that he'd be ready for the next game.

Before making out his starting lineup card, Manager Earl Weaver had trainer Ralph Salvon telephone Boog at home about 9:30 a.m., to see if he was able to play.

Powell, who finished the regular season with a flourish after struggling with a 256 average, wasn't about to bypass his chance to recoup in post-season play.

Boog, Brooks Robinson and Ellie Hendricks hit solo homers off Jim "Catfish" Hunter to give Baltimore a 3-1 lead after seven innings.

Then in the eighth, after Dave Johnson walked, Powell cracked a 390-foot drive over the centerfield fence. First, however, he tried unsuccessfully to bunt.

Before he went to the plate, Powell was told by Weaver: "If you can't swing the bat, lay one down."

After the foul bunt, Boog gritted his teeth, swung and connected for his fourth homer in the three years Baltimore has dominated the playoffs with eight straight victories

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NUMBER 882

AN ORDINANCE TO BE ENTITLED: "AN ORDINANCE TO REZONE CERTAIN PROPERTY IN THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS, FROM R-1 TO C-3 ON THE ZONING MAP OF SAID CITY; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES"

WHEREAS, Miles Laha and Valda Laha, his wife, the owners of the property hereinafter described in the City of Hope, Arkansas, duly filed with the City Clerk for consideration by the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas, a petition praying that certain lands be rezoned from R-1 (residential) to C-3 (neighborhood commercial); and

WHEREAS, said petition was duly referred to the City Planning Commission which caused a hearing to be held thereon after due notice as required by law; and

WHEREAS, the City Planning Commission after due consideration and public hearing has recommended that all of the property hereinafter described be rezoned as set out herein;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas:

SECTION 1: That the following described property in the City of Hope, Arkansas, be rezoned from R-1 (residential) to C-3 (neighborhood commercial), said property being described as follows, to-wit:

TRACT 1: Part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (Pt. SE¼ NE¼) of Section Four (4), Township Thirteen (13) South, Range Twenty-four (24) West, particularly described as follows: Commence at the Southwest corner of the SE¼ NE¼ of Section 4, Township 13 South, Range 24 West, and run East 52.4 feet, thence run North 14 feet to the POINT OF BEGINNING. Thence continue North 150 feet, thence run East 230 feet, thence run North 180 feet, thence run East 676 feet, thence run South 330 feet, thence run West 906 feet back to the point of beginning, containing 5.91 acres, more or less.

TRACT 2: Part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (Pt. SE¼ NE¼) of Section Four (4), Township Thirteen (13) South, Range Twenty-four (24) West, particularly described as follows: Commence at the Southwest corner of the SE¼ NE¼ of Section 4, Township 13 South, range 24 West and run East 52.4 feet, thence run North 164 feet to THE POINT OF BEGINNING; thence continue North 180 feet, thence run East 230 feet, thence run South 180 feet, thence run West 230 feet, back to the point of beginning, containing 95-100 acres, more or less.

SECTION 2: The zoning map of the City of Hope, Arkansas, previously adopted is amended hereby to reflect said changes.

SECTION 3: All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4: It is ascertained and determined that the property involved should be reclassified immediately from R-1 (residential) to C-3 (neighborhood commercial) for the orderly growth and development of the City of Hope, Arkansas; therefore, this ordinance being necessary for the peace, safety, and welfare of the inhabitants of said city, an emergency is declared to exist and this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.

ORDINANCE NO. 883

AN ORDINANCE CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION TO VOTE UPON THE QUESTION OF ISSUING BONDS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF ACT NO. 9 OF THE FIRST EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE SIXTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, APPROVED JANUARY 21, 1960, AS AMENDED, FOR THE PURPOSE OF FURNISHING THE PERMANENT FINANCING OF THE COST OF SECURING AND DEVELOPING INDUSTRY (THE PARTICULAR INDUSTRIAL PROJECT IS DESCRIBED IN THE ORDINANCE); PRESCRIBING OTHER MATTERS RELATING THERETO; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY

WHEREAS arrangements have been made with Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation, a Virginia corporation ("Tennessee Forging"), for the location of a substantial industrial project which will furnish employment, payrolls, alleviate unemployment and otherwise result in public benefits, all in the best interest of the City of Hope, Arkansas ("City") and its citizens and inhabitants; and

WHEREAS the proposed industrial project will consist of lands, buildings, improvements, machinery, equipment and facilities for an industrial plant which will be utilized for the manufacturing of such products as Tennessee Forging shall elect to manufacture, together with the necessary expenses and expenditures in connection with the constructing and equipping of the project and in connection with the financing (all of which will be sometimes referred to as the "Project"); and

WHEREAS in order to make the necessary provision for the permanent financing of the Project costs, it is necessary to authorize the issuance of not to exceed One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000) in principal amount of bonds under the provisions of Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended ("Act No. 9"); and

WHEREAS the purpose of this Ordinance is to submit the question of the issuance of the bonds under Act No. 9 to the electors of the City at a special election called for that purpose;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Directors of the City of Hope, Arkansas:

Section 1. That a special election be, and the same is hereby, called to be held in the City on the 9th day of November, 1971, at which election there will be submitted to the electors of the City the question of issuing Industrial Development Revenue Bonds under Act No. 9 in an amount not to exceed One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000) for the purpose of furnishing permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry (the particular industrial project is described above). The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at the rate or rates, with the interest payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors shall subsequently determine and specify in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Section 2. That the question shall be placed on the ballot for the election in substantially the following form:

Vote on measure by placing an "X" in the square above the measure either for or against:

FOR the issuance of Industrial Development Revenue Bonds by the City of Hope, Arkansas in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $1,500,000

It is proposed to issue City of Hope, Arkansas ("City") Industrial Development Revenue Bonds ("bonds") under Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended ("Act No. 9"), in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $1,500,000 for the purpose of furnishing the permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry. The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at such rate or rates, interest will be payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors shall subsequently determine and specify in the ordinance authorizing their issuance. The proposed industrial project will consist of lands, buildings, improvements, machinery, equipment and facilities for an industrial plant ("Project"), and the proceeds of the bonds will be sufficient to pay the Project costs and necessary incidental costs and expenses and the cost of the issuance of the bonds. The Project will be owned by the City and will be leased to Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation, a Virginia corporation, or a subsidiary, for lease rentals sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds. If the Project is leased to a subsidiary, all obligations of the subsidiary will be unconditionally guaranteed by Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation. The bonds will not be general obligations of the City but will be special obligations payable solely from Project revenues, including particularly lease rentals under the Lease and Agreement referred to above, which will be specifically pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the bonds will be secured by a lien and security interest in the Project as authorized by Act No. 9.

Section 3. That the election shall be held and conducted and the vote canvassed and the results declared under the law and in the manner provided for municipal elections, so far as the same may be applicable, and the Mayor shall give notice of such election by an advertisement published once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the City with the last publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of the election, and only qualified electors of the City shall have the right to vote at said election on the question.

Section 4. That the results of the election shall be proclaimed by the Mayor and his proclamation shall be published one time in a newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the City, which proclamation shall advise that the results as proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days after the date of such proclamation.

Section 5. That a copy of this Ordinance shall be furnished to the Hemphstead County Board of Election Commissioners so that the necessary election officials and supplies may be provided.

Section 6. That there is hereby found and declared to be an immediate need for the securing and developing of industry in order to provide additional employment, increased payroll, alleviate unemployment and provide other benefits incidental thereto, and the issuance of the bonds referred to in this Ordinance is essential to accomplishing the said public benefits. It is, therefore, declared that an emergency exists and this Ordinance being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare shall be in force and take effect immediately upon and after its passage.

National 'Day of Bread' Part of Harvest Festival Week

This is International Harvest Festival Week and Tuesday, October 5, is a 'Day of Bread', an ancient custom revived. It marks bread's reign for more than 6,000 years as a symbol of peace and plenty.

The observance is especially significant in Hope because Meyers Bakery here produces bread, tons and tons of it for practically every state in the union and several foreign countries. It is shipped every day from the Hope Brown N' Serve plant by rail truck and plane.

The above pictures were made in the Hope plant and as you can see there's plenty of dough in bread.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — To survive in the dog-eat-dog world of television, ABC's frail whimsy "Nanny and the Professor" has more to contend with than most programs.

"Mystical, magical Nanny," as the show's theme song calls her, is a pale carbon of Mary Poppins, and the half hour is really a children's show. It would be much more comfortable among the Saturday morning cartoons than opening the lineup on a night when ABC is getting revived up for a professional football game.

This slight piece of innocent fluff is stuck on a lonely 30-minute island of network time with periods fore and aft filled by local station programming. According to one network executive, this procedure was evolved so that local stations could present sports programs leading up to the football game. "Nanny and the Professor" is wildly out of place.

And then there is the competition—"Gunsmoke" on one side and "Laugh-In" on the other. The slight fantasy scraped rock bottom in the first Nielsen ratings of the season. An early demise would be a logical prediction, except that it would be hard to find any program that could survive under such conditions.

Juliet Mills, who plays Nanny, is a lively and attractive young actress. She had trouble struggling through Monday night's inanities. It was something about an old rogue of an uncle—Ray Bolger, mugging frantically—being hired as a rainmaker in a drought-stricken town. Nanny, of course, saved the day with her magic. Richard Long plays the widower professor, but his work in this episode consisted of opening and closing doors and smiling benignly.

There is some evidence that viewers are moving around the channels sampling the offerings of the new season. Old favorites are still tops and the three major networks are fairly close in the average ratings shown by the Nielsen report for Sept. 20 to 26, second week of the new season.

Feeling crowded? That may be because 70 per cent of the people in the United States live in only two per cent of its land area.

When the sun goes down, the highway accident rate goes up. Figures from the National Safety Council show a fatality rate of 6.3 per million vehicle miles for night driving, only 2.3 for daylight driving.

$5 Million for Art Treasures

DETROIT (AP) — The estate of Mrs. Anna Thomson Dodge has received more than $5 million from the auctioning of virtually all her art treasures, but the question of what to do with her 92-room home remains unanswered.

A representative of the estate executors confirmed that the Detroit Boat Club had made an offer for purchase of the home which, with its nine acres of choice Lake St Clair waterfront property, carries a price tag of $1.25 million.

He declined to reveal details and Boat Club officers were unavailable for comment.

Mrs. Dodge, one of America's wealthiest women, died in 1970, leaving an estate valued at more than $100 million. Some of her household treasures were auctioned in Europe and the rest in her home last month.

moved to the top of the popularity list, followed by NBC's Flip Wilson with ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." third. CBS's new "Funny Face" jumped from 20th to eighth—the only new series in the top 10.

Some returning shows, skipped by viewers first time out, made comebacks: "Bonanza," 50th on the list premiere week, shot into 17th position; "Hawaii Five-O" went from 48 to 22.

Way to Limit Bubonic Plague

WASHINGTON (AP) — A way may have been found to cut down on bubonic plague—still a threat in many parts of the world—by coaxing rats to kill their own fleas, government researchers say.

Agriculture Department scientists say rat fleas are major carriers of the plague, carrying it from rodents to humans.

The scientists have been experimenting with a new type of food bait containing an insecticide. They say that when the rats carry the food into burrows, the insecticide emits fumes, killing the fleas.

Heart May Not Need Surgery

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am writing you because I have had a serious problem with my heart ever since 1949. As I grow older, it seems to get worse. I am now 56.

The army doctors and my doctor have told me I have a badly damaged valve in my heart. It seems I can hardly get any circulation through the heart. At times I get very dizzy and have weak spells.

Please explain the risk involved in a heart valve operation. How can they keep a person living after the incision long enough to attach the heart lung machine? How long does it take to operate? What are the chances of complete recovery if a person is in reasonably good health to begin with? This is very important to me. Please answer.

Dear Reader: The first question is if you should have surgery or not. This depends on how well your heart is functioning and your total health. Your case points out all too plainly why heart surgery is not always necessary or even life saving. You have lived longer than 20 years without surgery since you first were discovered with a bad heart valve. You are lucky that you didn't need the operation then because the kind of surgery you may need couldn't even be performed until about 1955. Even then the risk of dying from the operation was very high. The chances of surviving now are much better but it is still by no means an innocuous procedure.

My guess is that you have involvement of the valve to the outlet of your heart (aortic valve). If you need to have it replaced you can expect to have an 85 per cent chance of recovering from such an operation if it is performed in a center where such operations are commonly done. That is a ball park figure since many factors affect the risk involved.

Many people are markedly improved after successful surgery. It usually takes months though to achieve maximum benefit. Since the outlook is progressively worse with some types of valve defects, sometimes the risk of not doing the operation becomes greater than doing the operation. That is the time that surgery becomes advisable. You may be at that point now.

When the outlook is that opened the heart continues to beat and provide circulation. It takes only a brief moment to actually interrupt the big vessels near the heart and shunt the blood through the heart lung machine so the actual operation can be done. As soon as the valve is repaired or replaced, the heart is closed and then the heart lung machine is separated from the circulation, like closing a detour on a highway under construction. The time required to do the surgery varies with the surgeon and the extent of the problem, and whether there are any complications or not. The surgery may take several hours or as little as one hour, depending on what must be done.

Dowers Winner Uses Fingers

DANVILLE, Vt. (AP) — Nancy Pulster of Mere Point, Maine, forsaking a diving rod in favor of her fingertips, has been declared the winner of the annual contest of the American Society of Dowers.

Mrs. Pulster turned up a bag of 39 Kennedy half dollars hidden under an old board near Joan Hall.

Finding the bag was the object of the contest and keeping the bag was the winner's reward.
